Employee Assistance Program

What is the service?

Your Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a confidential wellbeing resource, available any time, 24/7, to help you find answers to questions about work, life, health, family or money. We can offer expert advice, support, practical resources and referrals to help you manage life's issues and challenges – whether personal or professional.

What can I expect from my EAP appointment?

TELUS Health EAP offers confidential support from an experienced clinician.

During your conversation our clinician will gain an understanding about the issue you are experiencing and then provide you with helpful proactive strategies on how you can approach the situation.

You can arrange to meet with a clinician either face-to-face, via phone, video, or SMS.

What are the qualifications of EAP clinicians?

EAP clinicians are highly qualified, and we carefully screen all our clinicians to verify their credentials and level of experience. Minimally, clinicians are required to have a Master's degree in psychology, social work, educational counselling, or other related human services field.

Is the service confidential?

Yes. We take the utmost care to protect the identity of anyone who uses the service. The only exceptions to confidentiality include those governed by law, i.e., we are required to release documents under court subpoena, and we have a duty to intervene and report if a consultant or clinician deems an individual to be at imminent risk of harm to self or others.

Who pays for the service?

Your employer provides this program to support your wellbeing free of charge.
